Assignment.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The assignment of John Hoar, J. Hingster and C. F. Keuhuemund (firm of Hoar & Co.), bankers and brokers, was filed yesterday. In connection with the failure rumors of fraudulent transactions were freely circulated, which were credited by many on account of the mysterious absence of members of the firm. Their gold clerk said the failure was due entirely to repudiation of their contract by Belden & Co. Hoar was arrested on an order granted by Judge Bassett, of the Supreme Court, yesterday afternoon, and lodged in Ludlow street jail. It is stated that the firm's account at the City Bank was overdrawn forty-six thousand dollars.

THE STATE FAIR.

Third Day---Grand Success---Large Crowds in Attendance--Review of the State Guard--Scenes and Incidents.

Yesterday was the first big day of the Fair. At an early hour the streets of our beautiful city were thronged with visitors from every section of North Carolina. The trains on the different railways leading into the city were crowded last evening. The hotels, boarding houses and private houses were filled beyond their capacity long before midnight.

The day was beautiful, and the many visitors who had remained in the city over night were up bright and early, sight seeing. The United States Post-office, our magnificent Capitol building, and other objects of interest were taken in by our friends from the country. At 9 a. m. the bands began to play, the marshals assembled near the Capitol square, and crowds filled our principal streets en route to the Fair grounds. At noon not less than five thousand people were in the city and on the road leading to the grounds, all bent on seeing the great Fair of '78

AT THE FAIR.

Here the crowd was not less than six thousand. The people were too numerous to be comfortable, they were in each other's way. The exhibition, while not so good as previous fairs, is interesting and attractive; every section of the State is fully represented. From the mountains to the seashore, indeed nearly every county in North Carolina makes an exhibit. The Society should feel proud of its annual exhibitions. They afford our people an opportunity to see each other; in fact, our State Fairs are getting to be a sort of a great holiday, and why not?

The Eighteenth Annual Exhibition of the North Carolina Agricultural Society is indeed a grand success. To those who have seen the thousands of people and articles of every description on the grounds we cannot tell much, if anything. They have seen the great gathering of friends from all sections and will bear us testimony of how well the work of those who have had the management has been done. The whole arrangement of the exhibition has elicited many complimentary remarks from visitors, especially those who are in attendance from a distance.

THE EXHIBITION.

We have already referred to many of the meritorious exhibits to be seen in the various departments—but large additions have been made to the display since Tuesday afternoon. As many thousand people are expected to-day we will tell them what is to be seen and how to make a tour of the exhibition. Entering the General Exhibition Hall, an excellent assortment of fruits, household supplies, cakes, jellies and preserves of almost every imaginable fruit greets the eye. Turning to the left, or west wing of the building there is the finest assortment of carriages, buggies and pleasure vehicles ever seen at any Fair in the South. Here too, is the magnificent collection of the products of the field, minerels, ores, etc., by Col. L. L. Polk, the worthy Commissioner of Agriculture. The display of hardware, furniture, etc., deserve especial mention. Retracing our steps to the eastern wing of the Hall, we are greeted by the hum of at least fifty sewing machines all nicely arranged and managed by skillful and experienced agents, sewing up almost everything. In this section may be seen the fine display of organs, by Cloughe and Warren, of Detroit Michigan—W. L. Graves, of Selma, agent for the State.

FLORAL HALL.

Here the collection of ladies' handiwork of every description is one of the most attractive we ever witnessed at any exhibition. Elegant embroidery is seen upon every article of ladies and childrens' wear, scrap quilts of silk, worsted and calico, worked, braided and knit. Lamp shades, cut and finished with an art that is wonderful; flowers of wax, jewelry of curious construction, and, in short, everything that could be looked for in the ladies' department of a grand exposition.

THE ART GALLERY.

Ascending another flight of steps, the art gallery is reached, where pictures and portraits in all the different styles are to be found. Here those who admire the fine arts can find abundant food for reflection and æsthetic enjoyment, for the reason that the exhibition in this department is limited.

POULTRY.

The display of poultry is not up to the usual standard.

LIVE STOCK.

In this department the exhibit of race horses is very fine, probably the best ever witnessed at one of our Fairs, but when you look for other kinds of stock you will find the display somewhat limited, and it ought to be better. We have already referred to the exhibits in these departments.

When you get tired looking at the many attractions in General Exhibition Hall, walk over to the Stock Department. The exhibit, while small, is really meritorious.

AT THE GROUNDS YESTERDAY

All was hurry and bustle. The officers of the various departments were busily engaged finishing up their displays for the Judges. Visitors crowded the general exhibition hall, and it was with great difficulty that the Judges performed the duty assigned them.

REVIEW OF THE STATE GUARD.

The parade and review of the troops the State Guard yesterday was the most imposing military ceremony ever seen here in time of peace. In the formation the troops were in command of General Manly, Senior Brigadier, the First Brigade being commanded by Colonel R. D. Hancock, the Second by Gen. M. P. Taylor. Lieut. Col. Cotton acted as Colonel of the First Regiment, and Maj. H. P. Jones as Lieut. Colonel. The line being properly formed, arms were presented, after which the Governor and the Staff made the proper inspection, passing by the flank of the command. Taking position in front the march past in columns of platoons began. This was the most imposing martial pageant ever seen here, and the Commander in Chief expressed his pleasure at the bearing and appearance of Carolina's gallant soldiery. All officers and men alike, have reason to be proud of the State Guard, which shows what true spirit animates its members.

FLAG PRESENTATION.

The cadets of the Bingham School are general favorites at our annual fair, and win the praise of all for their gentlemanly bearing, excellent drilling and fine soldierly appearance. The scholars of the Graded School of this city, ladies, girls and small boys having purchased a beautiful flag for this purpose presented the same to the cadets at 2 p. m., yesterday through Capt John E Dugger, the Superintendent, in an appropriate address. In behalf of the cadets, the Hon W M Robbins, M C accepted the beautiful gift.

HON. W. M. ROBBIN'S ADDRESS.

Capt. Dugger:

By the request of the Captain and young men of the "Bingham cadets," I desire to express to you and to the young and fair donors of this elegant flag their hearty thanks. This testimonial will be cherished by them with pride and enthusiasm, and on their behalf I promise that it shall never be dishonored in their hands. They come of the fighting tar-heel stock. I have seen on many a field what that kind of men can dare and do.

They accept this flag with the aspiration that it may never have to be unfurled in other fields than those of parade and holiday; for this is best for our country and mankind. Peace is blessed. War is fearful and dreadful.

But if fate should call the "cadets" to march under this flag on fields where swords and bayonets are to be carried in bloody conflict, I promise for them that they will stand by it and die under it as cheerfully and heroically as their late brothers of North Carolina fought and died for the "Lost Cause."

North Carolina's sons will never fail to respond to her calls on them for her defence because North Carolina's daughters—the fairest and truest of their sex—always reward their defenders with such smiles of appreciation and devotion as only the brave deserve from the fair.

The Bingham school is more than three fourths of a century old. It is the largest and most prosperous classical school in the South. Its present teacher and his renowned and honored predecessors deserve well of their country. They train their scholars not only in manly military exercises, but in the graces of the mind and in purity of morals.

Our classical and our common schools are engaged in a great and noble work, which should enlist the zealous co-operation of every patriotic and wise North Carolinian. But I cannot enlarge on this vital subject of the importance of general and thorough education. The topic is too interesting and its scope too vast for me to enlarge upon it in a worthy manner, after being called upon so unexpectedly as I was on this occasion.

I beg you, Captain, to convey to the young gentlemen and ladies of the schools of Raleigh the expression of the gratitude and high appreciatinn of the Bingham Cadets for this handsome testimonial of their regard,

MEETING OF THE SOCIETY.

President Holt called to order at 7 p. m.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

On motion of Capt. Thigpen, the President was requested to invite the Hon. W. M. Rebbins, of Iredell, to deliver an address to-day at the Fair Ground.

R. H. Battle, Jr., introduced Prof. N B Webster, of Norfolk Va., who delivered an address of such marked ability that the News has deemed it well to give it publication in a supplement.

On motion Gen. Clingman, the thanks of the society was tendered Prof. Webster for his address, and a copy requested for publication in pamphlet form.

Hon. Kemp Battle delivered an able address—subject "education of the farmers," taking for his text. The great problem before us is to derive from the Earth, and maxinum product, at the minimum expense. The first economy to be studied is the economy of labor, both of man and animal. At the conclusion of the address Prof. Kerr said he had listened to the address of the distinguished speakers with much interest, expressed the hope that they should both be published. The society adjourned untill 7½ o'clock this P. M.

GENERAL NOTES.

The glass ball shooting was one of the attractive features. The Remington gun was won by Mr. Edward Engelhard: score 15-5. The hunting suit was won by the same gentleman: score 11-1.

Mr. W C Morgan, the popular agent of Talbott & Sons, of Richmond, will be at the exhibition to-day.

To day the pupils of the deaf, dumb and blind will go to the buildings etc., but for the benefit of those who are deprived of the school room exercises, they will give a free concert this evening commencing at 7½ o'clock at the chapel. All from abroad are cordially invited to attend.

Alfred Williams & Co., of this city make a fine display of books in the general exhibition hall.

A Girl Ruined by Gambling.

San Francisco Letter to New York Sun.

Whatever may be the end of this gambling mania, it is idle to preach prudence there now. San Francisco is a vast gambling hell at the present writing, and the women are if possible worse than the men in their greed to obtain money by gambling in mining stocks. A very sad case, illustrative of the demoralization which the craze is developing, is now before the police court. A young woman of one of the best known society families, wild to raise a few hundred dollars with which to speculate in mining stocks, invented a bogus charitable society to relieve the pressing wants of needy and starving families, whose modesty would not permit them to make a personal appeal to the charity of their friends or the public. She appointed herself treasurer, under a false name, and sent out a number of circulars begging for money. One of these circulars was sent to Mr. Sam Wilson, a prominent lawyer, who, suspecting a swindle, sent a police officer to follow the messenger and investigate. At the same he handed the messenger a small sum of money, which was duly delivered to the young woman who was waiting in the street, and who, being unable to establish the good faith of the society for which she pretended to be acting, was arrested, and charged with swindling and obtaining money by false pretenses. Mr. Wilson was sent for, and found to his consternation that the prisoner was a fashionable young woman, a frequent visitor at his own and others of the best houses in town. her name was withheld from the police report and the newspapers Bail was taken for her appearance; and strenuous efforts are being made to avoid a trial and public exposure. The affair is, however, an open secret, and the girl, who is only 19. is ruined for life.

Some Misplaced Names.

A very curious chapter might be written upon the contrast between many noted localities and the names which they bear, a contrast so glaring in many cases as to suggest a prophetic irony on the part of those who named them. Salem (peace) afterward lengthened into Jerusalem, harmonizes ill with the associations of a spot which has witnessed the multiplied horrors of the three bloodiest sieges in history. The Louvre, now one of the great monuments of civilization in its highest form, literally signifies "place of wolves" with which its site once abounded. The muddiest of Asiatic rivers is styled "Clear Stream" (Syr-Daria), and Russia's oldest city is still "New Town" (Novgorod), in memory of its rank as the capital of Buric's newly-founded State in 879. Sebastopol, an abreviation of Greek words sebastes polis (august city), looks anything but august at present, with its crumbling defences, half-destroyed docks, and long lines of roofless houses. Billingsgate, now a by-word for the lowest vulgarity, originally took its name from Prince Belin; and the capital of Russian Turkistan, which stands in the midst of a clayey plain, and contains not a single stone which has not been brought from a distance, bears the unaccountable title of "Stone village" (Tashkend.)—New York Times.

How Lynching is Growing at the North.

Springfield Republican.

It will not do for the North any longer to hold up its hands in horror over the disposition of the South to indulge in lynch law. It is only a few days ago that a negro guilty of an aggravated assault on a white girl narrowly escaped lynching at Ansonia, Ct.; about the same time Stephen Wade, a black man of 60, out in Darke county, O., was taken out of bed and shot down by a party of masked men for stealing; a few weeks earlier a mob in Sandusky, O., took a negro murderer from the officers and hung him to a lamp post; and now comes this latest and most shocking case from Posey county, Ind. Some half a dozen negroes at Mount Vernon robbed and outraged some white inmates of a disreputable house Thursday night. The officers arrested four of the party quietly the next day, but a deputy sheriff who went after a fifth at night was shot dead by the miscreant's father. Friday morning a mob gathered about the jail and demanded the prisoners, but the officers would not surrender them, and so they had to wait till evening, when they broke in with sledge-hammer and crow-bar, stabbed the old man, took out the other four and hung them upon the public square. The day was one of the wildest excitement throughout. In the morning it was falsely reported that the governor was sending militia from another town to restore order, and the mob gathered at the depot to prevent their leaving the cars; in the evening some negroes came in to rescue their brethren, and got into a fight, in which two whites were killed, making a total of eight deaths on both sides in the bloody affair. Kentucky and Texas will have to own up beaten in brutality and lawlessness after such a record.

The Miser's Money--A Memphis Incident.

Dr. Nelson, the tall miser, died. His son died. Then his daughter, a beautiful young girl just blooming into womanhood. Then his wife. In almost one fell stroke the family were annihilated. Nelson was worth almost a quarter of a million dollars, a goodly portion of that sum in United States bonds. He lived in the suburbs. When the house was cleared of its inhabitants a man named Hambridge, who has been a resident of this city three years, walked in and took possession of a box containing jewelry, gold watches, etc. Like most thieves Hambridge must make a splurge with his ill-gotten gains, and on Sunday evening he was arrested in a hack with a brace of cyprians, making a racket about the town. Hambridge's story is that the box of jewelry was taken possession of by him for the sole and only purpose of delivering it to J. H. Smith of the Howards. But Hambridge has a villainous looking face that would suspend him to a hickory limb on sight in Texas. When arrested, Hambridge made repeated efforts to get rid of the jewelry box. He even attempted to give it to the poor women, his frolicksome companions, but the eagle-eyed police were too smart for Hambridge, the box was taken from his person, and the dark-eyed looking thief is behind the bars.

The pension office in Washington gives notice to whom it may concern that the services of pension lawyers and claim agents are of no value whatever in advancing the interests of applicants for pensions. The bureau furnishes blanks that cover the whole business on application and they can be filled by any notary public without help of the professed experts.

The Podograph.

Dr. Fowler, a New York Yankee dentist, wandered to France and made his fortune He gives the following account of his crossing the channel:

During the Franco-German war he was a member of a self-equipped company of free-shooters, composed of forty wealthy gentlemen, who called themselves "The Forty," tendred their services to the Emperor, and were sent into the Vosges, where they did good service "in harassing the enemy's rear." After the Prussians left Paris, the Commune seized upon the doctor as he was out walking one day, and hurried him off to prison as a Prussian spy. His passport as an American protected him, though in fact it wasn't worth the paper it was written on, and Mr. Washburne couldn't have saved him.

In yachting circles he is particularly known, being the owner of the yacht Peau Rouge, which has carried off many prizes. Once, during the Empire, the Emperor offered a handsome prize for the winning yacht at La Rochelle. Fowler was on hand, but some of his competitors wanted to rule him out before starting, on some pretext or other. His yacht was a prisoner inside one of the basins, and the authorities refused to let her out to take her place in line. There was no time to be lost. The American Consul, Mr. Smith, with commendable promptitude telegraphed direct to the Emperor. With equal promptitude came a reply directing that Dr. Fowler's yacht be permitted to enter. He did enter, and took the first prize.

The Podograph consists of two paper shell-boats, about ten feet long, perfect miniatures of those ordinarily used in regattas. These are joined together, at about a foot or eighteen inches apart, by cross-rods of brass, and the occupant stands, resting one foot upon each, balancing himself with his paddle, a single piece of oak, with a broad spoon-blade at each end. He had been practicing for it for several months on the river at Bordeaux, and, after his arrival at Boulogne, was obliged to defer his start for some ten days, awaiting favorable weather. Finally one morning he started at 4 o'clock, with promise of a comparative quiet channel, and with a sail boat in his wake.

From a contemporary we take the doctor's own description of his experience after he got well out into the current. "It was," said he, (pointing straight ahead), "as if I wanted to go there, and something" (pointing off to the left at right angles) "was constantly making me go here." The terrible, constant effort required to maintain his balance, keep the boat against the current, and at the same time make his headway, can well be imagined. Still, the bold navigator kept up his courage, and, without accident or mistake of any kind, reached the English coast near Folkstone between three and four o'clock that afternoon. He was at once carefully rubbed down, oiled and fed, a physician pronounced him "all right," and he put up over night at a Folkestone hotel, where he heard a little girl exclaim: "Oh! mamma, come and see the man that came ower from France on a horse." The doctor tells this with great gusto. Next day he was back again in France, none the worse for his wonderful journey.

Bob Ingersoll.

From the Buffalo Courier.

It is mighty hard work now-a-days to make a decent living on the lecture platform. People have become so tired out listening to talkers, who have nothing to say that a man needs to be at the very top in point of talent to draw an audience that will pay. There are not more than half a dozen really successful lecturers in the whole country—men whom the public will go to hear out of curiosity as well as to be instructed or entertained. Bob Ingersoll is one of these. He can talk the shallowest stuff of all the talkers of the platform, but there is a freshness about Bob that makes him originial. He delivered his lecture on Robert Burns a few nights ago at Chickering hall, and although it was an outburst of extravagance all through, except the parts that were merely blasphemous, the audience, a large one, seemed pretty well pleased. According to Ingersoll, there have been only two poets in the world—Shakespeare and Burns. All the Greek and Roman poets, and all others of the classic school since then, were simply bores. Burns was the only true and real poet, with the exception of Shakespeare. It seems that Americans are indebted to his "A Man's a Man for a' That," for the Declaration of Independence, though Burns was born only sixteen years before that valuable document was written. But it won't do to tie a man like Ingersoll down to hard facts. He is imaginative and it suits him best to "slosh around," as it were, and make an occasional dash at the clouds.

Builders' Hardware.

We are prepared to fill orders for locks, hinges, screws, nails, sash springs and fasteners, and all other requisites in that line; bought from manufacturers and sold at lowest rates. Owing to the great variety of goods, and the frequent changes in prices, we find it impractible to issue a price list, but shall be pleased to give you quotations on any kind of hardware you may desire to know the price of, or you may send us your orders with the assurance that they will be filled at the lowest rates. Address, Julius Lewis & Co., Fisher Building, Ralegh, N. C.

Joe Turner in Granville.

Oxford Torchlight.

During the past week Joe Turner has been bush-whacking in this county—airing and wiring out. He created very little enthusiasm, if any, in this township. He may possibly have a few followers here, but we do not think his speeches of Monday and Tuesday gained him any converts. He was abusive to everybody and almost everything. Of course the editorial fraternity came in for a full share of his vulgar and indecent invectives. No wonder he abuses the press, for the columns of the Democratic papers are closed against him and the cess-pools of abuse with which he filled the Sentinel. And then, they too are fighting him with his own ammunition—"fighting the devil with fire," as the saying is.

When a man is seriously ill he should call on his doctor at once; but when his trouble is only a cough or a sore throat he need only invest 25 cents in a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Popular discrimination in favor of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has given it a larger sale than any other remedy of its class. Price 25 cents.

The Wonder at the Fair.

The greatest invention of the day—the telephone—by which the human voice, clear and distinct, is transmitted by electric flashes through miles of space is on exhibition at the Fair. Visitors who have not had an opportunity of testing the wonders of this master piece of human genius, can be gratified by visiting the tent at the southwest corner of the Grand Stand on the Fair Grounds, for the trifling cost of 10 cents. Major B. W. Starke, the urbane and accomplished chief of the Raleigh telegraph office, is the proprietor of the establishment, and has placed the admission fee at this nominal sum in order to exhibit free of profit the wonderful power and convenience of his art. *

We take pleasure in calling attention to the advertisement of that old and reliable house of R. F. Jones & Co. They are doing an extensive business as wholesale grocers, wholesale liquor dealers and as cotton and general commission merchants, and we cheerfully recommend them to the public as gentlemen worthy of the liberal patronage that they have and are now receiving. *

Call at Stronach & Allcott's Warehouse, corner of Wilmington and Person streets, this morning and buy a nice Buggy or Phaeton cheap. They have a large lot on hand which they purpose to sell at prices to suit the times. If you want anything on wheels now is the time to buy. *

Try the Nassau Boat Club Smoking Tobacco for cigaretts at Gruendler's.

A Remarkable Result.

It makes no difference how many Physicians, or how much medicine you have tried, it is now an established fact that German Syrup is the only remedy which has given complete satisfaction in severe cases of Lung Diseases. It is true there are yet thousands of persons who are predisposed to Throat and Lung Affections, Consumption, Hemorrhages. Asthma, Severe Colds settled on the Breast, Pneumonia, Whooping Coughs, &c., who have no personal knowledge of Cochee's German Syrup. To such we would say that 50,000 dozen were sold last year without one complaint. Consumptives try just one bottle. Regular size 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists in America.

A Good Bill.

Mr. M. Bill, the energetic proprietor of the City Bottling Works, offers inducements to liquor dealers at home and abroad, in bottled beer, ale porter &c. He is sole agent for the Brunswick Billiard Table and the Redgrave Parlor Bagatelle Tables. Correspondence solicited. *

You will always find the largest stock of Pipes in the city at Gruendler's.

Eternal Fitness.

Of all the men who by good nature and good fits have won themselves a far and wide reputation, that jolliest and best of Tailors, Chris. Weikel, is the leader. No higher compliment can be paid a well fitting suit than to say he made it. Those who would like to be Beau Brummels or D'Orsays, can be so by getting suits at Weikel's

Lower than Ever.

D. Ottinger having to remove next week, will sell the balance of his stock to boots and shoes at astonishingly low figures. Finest Philadelphia made men's calf box toe gaiters $3.75. Brogans $1.00, $1.10 and $1 25. Ladies shoes from 75 cents to $3. Children shoes at 50, 75 and $1 00. Infants shoes at 15, 25 to 50. Remember these goods must be sold without regard to cost, and the greatest of inducements are offered. *

To Carpenters and Builders.

If you are needing anything in the way of edge tools or builders hardware, of any kind, we would advise you to call at J. C. Brewster's hardware house, where you can find a splendid stock of goods in this line, and at prices to suit the scarcity of money. All tools sold are fully warranted. He will contract for roofing at prices which will enable you to put in your bids (where there is any tin work to be done) lower than ever, giving you an opportunity to use tin in place of shingles.

He uses nothing except the best material. J. C. BREWSTER, Holleman Building. *

It Might Have Been.

When taking a retrospection of our past lives, how often does conscience whisper to broken spirits and wounded hearts the sad, sad words, "It might have been?" Thus it may be with the sufferer who endures the agonies of hemorrhoids, or piles, and heeds not the counsel to try Barham's Infallible Pile Cure, which is warranted to speedily and permanently cure this distressing disease. Manufactured by the Barham Pile Cure Co., Durham, N. C

The Wisest and Best

Are aware of the fact that one of the choicest and fullest stocks held in the city is at Dodd's immense store, corner Wilmington and Martin streets. Purchasers of goods in the grocery line may feel assurred of having a great variety of goods to choose from, and of being always satisfied as to quality and prices. *

Just in Time.

Another consignment of nice North Carolina Hams. Call soon or they will all be sold. If you have any cotton, corn, meal, flour, or any kind of country produce to sell send it to the undersigned; he will guarantee highest prices and make prompt returns. D. T. Johnson, Wilmington street. *

M. T. Norris & Co., are in receipt of a large consignment of apples, for sale at a bargain. Call early.

Latta & Myatt,

Wholesale grocers and cotton commission merchants, Raleigh, N. C., are receiving daily consignments of cotton, which they handle to a very decided advantage to the shipper. Farmers from a distance may rest assured that their interest will be fully represented with any shipment they may make. They have the spacious building formerly occupied by Barbee & Latta, and are prepared to store and make advancements at a very low rate of interest. They have a very heavy stock of bagging and ties, and from the dray loads discharged, we would judge, sell a great many of them. Write for prices when in need of anything in the grocery line. *

Go to Woollcott's Open Front Store for bargains in clothing, dry goods, hats, boots and shoes, notions, &c. He has just received another lot of the celebrated Telephone shirts. Price, 65 cents. *

ELECTION—TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5TH.

Sales-Day at the Fair.

The new feature of a public auction of exhibited articles to take place on Saturday will in time, give us a real State FAIR in the original meaning of the word. We say 'in time,' because to give the fullest benefits from the "vendue" it should begin on Wednesday evening, while the majority of the visitors are still in attendance; a special portion of the grounds being railed off for this feature. Many persons who would be glad to bid for small articles cannot afford to wait till Saturday merely to make the purchase.

The Old World Fairs, which date back a thousand years and more, are conducted on this style, i. e. made mainly a place of barter and trade. The great Fair at Nijni Novgrood, in Russia, is attended by hundreds of thousands of people,—chiefly buyers and sellers. So at the great Annual Fair on the banks of the Ganges, the products of the North and East meet and exchange with those of the West and South. The advantage offered by such assemblages,—representing at once, Supply and Demand,—Can be seen at a glance. Perhaps some of our readers will remember the old Scotch Fairs of the upper Cape Fear section—Robeson county in particular. We observe with pleasure, that Dr. Columbus Mills, Col. Robinson, and the leading agriculturalist of Cabarrus county, have organized with every prospect of success a local Cattle-Show, and Trading-Fair, on somewhat similar ground-plan, but with many modern improvements.

Our American Fairs, unfortunately, have been predicated upon the idea of notoriety rather than utility. Self-glorification is too often the moving motive; and where this is not the first thought the display is generally designed as an advertisement of some real or fancied improvement, whether in stock, or crops, or machines. The rich farmer buys a blooded horse, cow, calf or pig, and sends him over to the Fair from year to year to gain for himself the honor of being heralded as the most successful breeder in the the County, though possibly he knows nothing about stock-raising and cares less. The patent plow, the patent rat-trap, the patent calf-stripper, and the patent church-steeple, all are exhibited as advertisements for future trade. A sale may be desired, but if so it is a thing to occur in future. As for the visitors, the great majority of them are present mainly to see what there is to be seen and to enjoy a day or two of social intercourse. In too many cases there is no sort of sympathy with the real object of the Fair. Naturally there is a tendency to carry this purposeless frolickings to excess. Fashionable folly and dissipation are hard to keep outside the Fair grounds where no other object than mere sight-seeing is in the minds of the majority of visitors.

We deem it, therefore, a wise and thoughtful step in the managers of the State Fair to attempt to graft upon it some features of the more practical Trade-Exchange Associations of the Old World. Let the farmers and exhibitors now endeavor to make the most of this annual sales-day.

Logic of the Recent Elections.

The Conservative Executive Committee in their address to the voters of North Carolina, printed in this paper yesterday, very properly calls attention to the significance of the recent great State elections as indicating two things: First, that the Northern people are disgusted with the Radical leaders; and second, that the much-talked-of National, or New, party has utterly failed to meet public expectation either in strength, enthusiasm, or ability.

The collapse of the Nationals, more especially in Ohio, the birth-place of the party, and the cradle of the "Rag Baby," was as surprising to their friends as to their opponents. According to the predictions of the Republican and the Democratic chiefs throughout the whole tier of Lake States, it was to be expected that one or other of the old parties must be entirely ruined in the pending election; whereas, as it turns out, the Nationals polled only an insignificant vote, and failed to elect a single straight-out representative of their party. Of the two or three so-called National Congressmen chosen in Iowa and Indiana, every man is a Democrat in principle, and was elected by a union of the Greenbackers with the Democrats. It is perhaps a fortunate thing that the National movement was thus early nipped in the bud. The country is not ready for three great political parties, and neither of the old parties can be overthrown in a day or a year; particularly on a question of "Hard" or "Soft" money, which is not so much a principle as an untried experiment, about which men may theorize without sin. For the present, therefore, our Greenbacker friends should not waste their energies in trying to build up a New Party, which stands no sort of chance of success for years to come, if ever at all; but should co-operate with the party whose views most nearly assimilate with their own. Half a loaf is eminently better than no bread, and the National who is wise will not allow his factious voting for a third ticket to rob him of a whole loaf (as was done in several districts of Ohio; the Nationals taking away just enough votes to elect a Radical, their devoted enemy!) but will join hands with the Democrats to elect honest gentlemen, like Jo Davis, General Scales, Alfred Waddell, and the rest, who, if not exactly Greenbackers, are warmly interested in the country's welfare, and will advocate legislation looking to its relief.

When Josiah interrupted, and broke the discourse of quarter-master Bledsoe with the horrible tintinabulation of his cow-bell, why was Moses so meek? He assuredly had sufficient causa belli! Cow-belli, of course, but still fair ground for fight.

Turner spent four years trying to persuade the people of Orange to send him to the Legislature to hunt up the Rings. At length they have elected him (to get rid of him) and lo! the only discovery was the ring of a cracked cow-bell!

BEAUTY:

OR THE

Secret of a Fair Face

AN ITEM OF INTREST TO EVERY LADY WHO DESIRES TO BE MORE BEAUTIFUL THAN SHE NOW IS.

Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred, subjected to the whims of an American climate possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty—a pure and clear complexion.

What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish.

It can be done; it is done daily. Prof. W. E. Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unblessed daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty, and called

MAGNOLIA

BALM

The MAGNOLIA BALM is a sure device for creating a pure and blooming complexion.
It conceals all natural blemishes in the most surprising and effective manner.
It removes all roughness eruptions, redness blotches, freckles, and tan with magical power.
It drives away all evidences of fatigue and excitement.
It makes the plainest face beautiful.
It gives the complexion a dazzling purity and makes the neck, face, and arms appear graceful, rotund, and plump.
It makes a matron of 35 or 40 look not more than 20 years old, and changes the rustic maiden into a cultivated city belle.
The Magnolia Balm removes all blemishes and conceals every drawback to beauty; and while it is as harmless as water, it is so lifelike in its effects that the closest observer cannot detect its use.
Ladies who want to make themselves attractive can make an absolute certainty, of it by using HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM, and we know of no other way. It is the cheapest preparation in the world, all things considered, and may be had at any drug store.

GENTS' Furnishing Goods, Underwear, Linen Collars. Shirts. laundried and unlaundried—cheapest in the city.

INSURING $178,280,625,
And its SURPLUS, by the most rigid standard of solvency, was $3,703,602.
—:o:—
It charges a rate of premium full adequate to maintain perfect solvency and which has carried it through the unexampled severity of the past five years in unquestioned strength.
Surplus earnings are annually deducted from the rate charged, reducing the premium really paid each year to the actual cost of carrying the insurance and maintaining the reserve.
It writes only forms of policies of proven utility; and each policy provides for its conversion into paid-up insurance upon fair terms, in case of lapse.
Within a year and a half it has sustained at the hands of a legislative commission, aided by well-known experts, the most protracted and searching examination, both as to its financial condition and methods of business, ever made of any class of corporations, without reduction of assets or the suggestion of change in method.

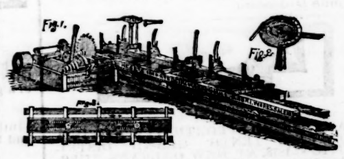
CIRCULAR SAW MILL. LEVER FEED CUTTER



Hege's Improved Circular Saw Mill, is no new & dauntried saw mill, but is one that is well and favorably known in many sections, and wherever it is introduced it is fast superceeding all others. It is simple in construction, yet reliable in operation, and is sold for less than any other first class saw mill. Send for descriptive circular

Lever Feed Cutter,

Something entirely new and novel in the feed cutter line. With this cutter the feed in cut off diagonally, instead of square across, as is the case with all other cutters, at the same time our cutter has a draw cut, acting exactly on the same principle that a knife is used in cutting off a stick, consequently with our Diagonal Feed Cutter we can cut more feed with less labor in a given time than any other cutter costing twice as much.
Price reduced to $8.00. Send for circular. Liberal discount to agents. No goods consigned. Manufactured by the Salem Agricultural Works, Salem, N. C.

HOME REMEDY.

THE MOST WONDERFUL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE!

A CERTAIN AND SPEEDY

CURE FOR SCROFULA.

FACTS ARE STUBBORN THINGS!

"It will Cure You if You Give it a Fair Test."

It gives me much pleasure to be able to state that I have derived an effectual cure of Scrofula from the use of Mrs. Joe Person's remedy for that disease. I had suffered from Scrofula for more than three years, and had despaired of ever getting well. I was treated during that time by three very eminent physicians, without any good result. I then went to the National Surgical Institute, at Atlanta, Ga., and was treated there more than two months, with no better result than my family physicians met with. After returned from the Institute I was persuaded to try Mrs. Person's remedy, and I had not used it more than a week before I discovered its curative and healing properties. My sores soon began to heal, and the color of my skin changed as fast as the sores healed. I had not thought of ever getting well again, but my hopes increased, my low spiritedness fled before the remedy, and I am now enjoying splendid health and am in good spirits. The remedy is mild as a purgative, and a strong tonic; it will heal the most stubborn sore in three weeks if taken regularly. It is my opinion that it should be taken some time after the sore is healed, to remove the cause of its effects. It should be taken regularly by all means, for I have sometimes neglected it; from the pressure of business, and in all cases found that the cure already made would commence to retrograde, and for this alone it should be taken regularly until an effectual cure is completed. Nothing should prevent regularity in the use of the remedy and it should be taken at the proper time. I would recommend to all who are suffering from Scrofula to try it. It will surely cure you if you give it a fair test. I speak from experience, and not from hearsay. I am a grateful recipient of a cure from the use of it and I am under many and lasting obligations to Mrs. Person for the great relief I have obtained from its use. Sufferers, try it and be cured, is my advice.

I am respectfully,
JAMES A. MORRIS.

Abstract of Taxes.

John M. Benson, Register of Deeds, of Bladen county, made a return to the Auditor yesterday, of an abstract of the listed taxables of that county as follows:

General taxes	$1,841.46
Special "	1 883.30
School "	3,213 42
County "	6,755.60

Runaway.

A pair of horses having harness on were taken up near the bridge on Hillsboro street last night, appearances seemed to indicate that they had broken loose from a vehicle of some sort and were unclaimed up to last accounts.

Apropos.

Messrs. Hardin, Grimes & Co., one of the most capable and accomodating family grocery houses in the State, make important announcements of large receipts of seasonable goods in their line. The public may expect and will not fail to find everything usually in a first-class grocery stock, and the most careful and polite attention when dealing with this strictly reliable firm.

American Public Health Association.

By the appointment of the executive committee of this association the sixth annual meeting will be held in the city of Richmond, Va., the 19th and 22d of November next, to consider the reports and propositions offered by its members and others relating to the yellow fever and the sanitary measures for preventing the recurrence of such calamities. Eminent public men from the South and from the chief cities of our country have promised attendance, and the committee cordially invites medical and sanitary authorities and other citizens who seek to promote the public health, to participate in the deliberations, to be wholly devoted to sanitary matters of State and National importance.

Magistrates Court.

The following cases were disposed of by Justice W. Whitaker, yesterday:

State vs Bouldin E. Young, colored, charged with breaking into a house in Carey township, in the day time and stealing therefrom household articles. The prisoner was sent to jail in default of bail.

James Burch, another negro, for obstructing an officer in the execution of his duty was also in default of bail committed to jail.

Prof. Wm. Powell, the belligerent barber, who was committed for assaulting and stabbing Matthew Simmons with a pair of barber shears, but upon the professor giving a justified bond, was subsequently released.

Sale of Fine Animals.

Salesday of the Fair, Saturday next, will be an exceedingly interesting one this year. Many valuable animals will be offered for sale on that day, and articles of various description.

Among these is a herd of twenty-three full Devon cattle, splendid milch stock—from the Linwood stock farm of Col. Thos. M. Holt. These are very superior animals, and it is a rare opportunity to purchase. Persons having stock, or articles for sale on that day, now on exhibition are especially requested to have them placed on the list in the Secretary's officer that they may be included in the programme of the sale.

A Friend in Need.

Among the many visitors in the city on yesterday were a lady and gentleman, evidently from the rural districts. They enjoyed a very pleasant day at the Fair Grounds, and late in the afternoon came to the city in search of accommodations for the night. To their dismay they found the hotels full to overflowing, and the boarding houses crowded. After a long search they found a boarding house on —— street, which seemed not so full and they entered, confident of success. The landlady, in response to his call for a room, told him that she could take a lady or a gentleman, with a little crowding, but had no room vacant. The gent seemed to be getting desperate, and remarked: "I MUST have a room, for I was just married on yesterday." The boarders in the parlor laughed at something about that time, and the kind old lady who had once been married herself, made them happy, by crowding the boys more closely, and gave them a room all to themselves.

Fashionable Marriage.

Decidedly the event of the season in fashonalbe circles was the marriage of Mr. W. H. Pace, one of the young and rising members of the Raleigh bar, to Miss Mary Lou, eldest daughter of Col. J. M. Heck. The ceremony took place at the First Baptist Church yesterday at 10 a. m. and was performed by Rev. Dr. J. B. Taylor, of Wilmington, the uncle of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Dr. T. H. Pritchard, the Pastor of the church. The church had been most tastefully decorated by the ladies of the congregation. Six beautiful arches of evergreens studded with roses of every variety and hue overhung the center aisle, and wreaths and festoons were visible in every part of the edifice. The altar was most exquisitely arranged. At the back were to be seen magnificent pyramids of flowers and on the front a beautiful arch of flowers with a bell suspended from the center. The scene presented a pleasing contrast to the tableaux formed by the richly attired attendants, who entered in the following order: Mr. Peter M. Wilson and Miss Mary Lewis, Samuel Brewer and Miss Ella Andrews, John Pullen and Miss Lavine Haywood, B. F. Montague and Miss Maggie Williams, A. W. Haywood and Miss Sadie Green, of Warrenton; George M. Smedes and Miss M. Lula Cook, of Norfolk, Newton Holding and Miss Minnie Heck and Dr. D. E. Everitt and Miss Fannie Heck; followed by two little flower girls Misses Mattie and Susie Heck. Col. Heck supporting the bride on his right arm and the groom supporting Mrs. Heck on his entered the church and on reaching the altar Col. Heck presented the bride and they took their stand immediately under the arch. At the conclusion of the beautiful and impressive ceremony the bridal party wended their way to the depot where the happy couple took the cars for an extended Northern tour.

Tucker Hall.

Last evening, "Cuba" drew a tremendous house, there hardly being standing room for the crowd on the rise of the curtain. The play was well set, the cast was excellent, and everybody was pleased.

Personal.

Solicitor C. W. Grandy is in the city.

Capt. Oct. Coke is registered at the Yarboro.

Among the visitors at the Fair are Hon. C. W. Grandy, Elizebeth City, Hon. Octavus Coke, Cnowan, Hon. F. E. Shober, Rowan, Gen. Phil. Hawkins, Louisburg, N. C.

Over the Hills and Far Away.

The cry is, send me a package of Jones' Unrivalled Baking Powder.

The Winning Race.

If you wish to buy good goods for the least money go to W. E. Dupree, No. 2 Adams Building, Raleigh, N. C He is daily receiving and has on hand one of the best selected stocks of groceries, dry goods, ready-made clothing, boots and shoes; in fact, you can find every thing you need at Dupree's, at rock bottom prices to suit the times.

If you come to our Fair,
The best we have we wish to share;
If you stay sober, or get on a spree,
Be sure to go and see Dupree. *

I see by the News that Gimlet and Corkscrew have been to see Brewster to buy hardware. Have been there to buy other goods. I find tin ware and crockery in abundance and all very cheap; in fact, so cheap that I nearly bought myself rich. But I will tell you what is a fact, Brewster's goods were so cheap and he had so many of them, that I spent all my money and could not go to Wiekel's, but will go and see him soon and bear him talk about Corkscrew and Gimlet.

* WASH BASIN.

L. D. & W. R. Womble,

corner Hargett and Wilmington streets keep the largest and best selected stock of Sole and Upper Leather, Harness Leather, French and American Calf and Kip Skins, Lining Skins, Gaiter Uppers, Boot Fronts, Shoe Lasts, Boot Trees, Shoe Thread, Pegs, Heel Nails, and in fact everything that the shoemaker needs. Visitors to the Fair are invited to call and examine our stock and prices. *

From Acute to Chronic

Is an easy stage in cases of dyspepsia. A slight attack of indigestion, especially when there is a predisposition to digestive weakness of the stomach, must speedily culminate in the most obstinate form of the disease. It is well, therefore to adopt preventative measures early. Although Hostetter's Stomach Bitters overcome, if persisted in, cases of dyspepsia of long standing, it is obviously the part of wisdom to use it ere the malady assumes a chronic phase. This is particularly true, because as dyspepsia advances, it engenders other bodily evils, such as disorder of the liver, constipation or undue looseness of the bowels, nervous disorders, hypochondria, sleeplessness. These maladies are both prevented and remedied by the Bitters, but how much better to check them in their outset with the great alterative, than to wait until they have established a firmer foothold in the system. Surely the advisability of this must be apparent. *

At J. C. Lumsden's

Just received a nice lot of breech loading shot guns, these are all warranted and will be sold very cheap. Ammunition of all kinds. He is also receiving his fall stock of tinware, woodware, hardware, crockery and house furnishing goods of every description. He manufactures his own tinware with the latest improved tools and offers great inducemnts to wholesale buyers. Tin roofing a specialty. Remember the place. J. C. S. Lumsden, Raleigh, N. C. *

Just Received.

Messrs. Cook & Wainwright have just received one car load of those Tennessee wagons; they are first class wagons and will be sold at panic prices. They also have a lo of the Arlington Guano for wheat.

Mr. B. H. Tyson extends to everybody a cordial invitation to examine his splendid display of Buggies, Phaetons, etc., corner of Fayetteville and Martin streets, and at the large warehouse of Williamson & Upchurch. "Rock bottom" prices for cash, or negotiable paper. *

I find that our friend Gimlet has been to see Brewster again, so I thought I would go and see for myself whether Gimlet was telling the truth or not. When I told Brewster my name he laughed and searched for his neighbor, Weikel, and laughed all about Gimlet. Brewster said that Gimlet had been to his place and bought some goods so cheap that it tickled him so, he laughed till he bursted his clothes and had to go to Weikle's to get more, so both Weikel and Gimlet were benefitted by Brewster selling goods so cheap. I'm going to see Gimlet, and will tell you soon what he says.

* CORK SCREW.

Bagging and Ties.

We are in daily receipt of supplies in Bagging and Ties, Twines, &c. Farmers and country merchants can secure bargains in sending us their orders. We make the sale of cotton on consignment, a specialty. Kelly, Purefoy & Brewer, Raleigh. *

Tombstones at Cost.

Parties wishing tombstones of any description will find it their interest to to call and examine Mr. John Cayton's large and varied selection. He will sell at cost for the next thirty days. Now is the time to secure bargains. Marble yard just below Harps carriage factory *

The Attraction

On Fayetteville street is the fine display of dry goods, notions, clothing, boots and shoes, at the establishment of Mr. A. H. Baker, one of the leading houses in his line in the city. *

Levy's champion shirts are made of the best material.

Levy's champion shirts are perfect fitting.

First Class Saloon.

J. S. Taylor, and Mr. Meadows his efficient clerk, at No. 31½ Fayetteville street, keep splendid liquors etc. Visitors to the Fair are invited to call. *
